

Introducing Readvolution

This year, our school will be participating in the Carolina Hurricanes Readvolution – a partnership supporting student literacy by having students read for 20 minutes outside of the school day. Using an online tracking system, students will log their reading, and together we will work toward a school goal of 2,020 books.

Instructions to Log In

- Click here to go to the Carolina Hurricanes Readvolution Link –or–
- Go to the LES Website
- Click on Student Quick Links
- Students should Log into their WakeID Portal, select Student in the drop down box.
 - Grade 3-5 students need to use their Wake ID and their password to log into their Wake ID Portal.
 - Grades K-2 students can use their Student ID# (aka–lunch #) for their user name and password.
- Click on the Hurricanes logo

After logging in, you will see your student dashboard. The dashboard will show you an overview of things you can do.

How to log the time that you read

Each day, after you're done reading, you should add the time to your Readvolution log.

- If you are reading a new book
 - You can add a new reading log entry by clicking the large "Add" button.
 - Enter the title of the book and how many minutes you spent reading it.
 - Enter the date of when you read the book (if you didn't read it today)
 - Enter whether you finished reading the entire book.
 - Click the "Save" button.
 - Your new entry will be added to the log on your dashboard.
- If you are continuing to read a book
 - Click on the "Continue" button next to the book that you read.
 - Enter the date of when you read the book (if you didn't read it today)
 - Enter whether you finished reading the entire book.
 - Click the "Save" button.
 - Your new entry will be added to the log on your dashboard.

Scoreboard

The scoreboard is on the homepage of the website, click the big #readvolution logo at the top of the page to get there.

Teachers

Teachers have their own dashboard. They can see the student roster and details for each student. This will be coming soon!
